

The Arizona Supreme Court's Committee on improving Probate Court Matters is soliciting comments from the public regarding suggested improvements to Arizona's method of establishing and overseeing guardianships and conservatorships for vulnerable and incapacitated persons.

Specifically, the Committee wishes to receive information regarding problems encountered or observed in guardianship or conservatorship cases and any suggested solutions. The Committee is not investigating the Probate Court or any particular case, however, and asks that the public refrain from making comments that identify particular case names, numbers, or persons involved in those cases.

Persons wishing to comment may do so online by accessing the Committee's website, www.azcourts.gov/pcc and clicking on the "Feedback Form" on the left side of the webpage. The site will then guide you on how to submit your comments.

Comments may also be mailed to the Arizona State Courts Building, c/o Committee on Improving Probate Court Matters, 1501 West Washington Street, Suite 104, Phoenix, AZ 85007
